

CF3 Board: record of decisions

Meeting of 27 March 2022. Virtual.

Decided

iF3 cancelled the 2022 World Championships planned for Moscow; Germany, Egypt and Mexico are possible hosts.

The minimum requirements for the 2022 CF3 qualifier were reduced from four rounds to two. Athletes must complete every part within the time cap. The requirements go on the scorecards, and the floor plan and equipment list are published by 31 March.

The 2022 Canadian Championships are planned as a live event in Calgary.

Clubs receive one year of free registration.

Provincial federations may organise their own local competitions and events.

For 2023, the board will consider provincial championships in British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec feeding a national championship, with an online qualifier for the rest of the country.

An update on the coaching certification course was requested. It is planned in levels covering juniors, masters, group classes and programming.

The CF3 website will be refreshed.

CF3 will explore partnerships with Canadian competition series, including as sanctioned events.

The next board meeting was set for 3 April 2022.

A record of decisions taken. The minutes of this meeting are held for the board.